IMPORTANT NOTE: These kits are produced in most cases from very old, original plans. Every effort has been made to reproduce models as they were originally designed. Some, but not all, plans have been modified for RC use. The result is that, in many cases, construction details may be lacking to the extent that advanced building skills may be required to achieve the desired results. All available information in our possession for each kit has been included and no additional information is available from the manufacturer.

Prices are subject to change without notice - All sales are final, No returns or exchanges
